Trailer Fundraiser for 2027 State Shoot

Doug presented plans for a fundraising trailer project with an estimated cost of just under $10,000 (approximately $10,000). The fundraiser would include potential sponsorship opportunities and ticket sales at $50 each. Doug requested assistance in gathering a list of trappers for the event. The board discussed next steps, including sharing the trailer example and invoice details with all board members for review.

2027 State Shoot Planning

Doug provided updates on the upcoming state shoot preparations, including road improvements and community support.

Pricing: Doug confirmed a slight increase in main event costs due to overall price increases. The board discussed specifics around target setters, Score Chaser events, and expectations for hosting clubs.

Trappers and Scorekeeping: Doug will build a list of trappers for the shoot and reach out to board members for names.

Release Date: Doug will provide a firm starting date for when the state shoot will be released on ScoreChaser, after everything is put together and approved by the board.

State Target Fee Discussion (Tabled)

The board discussed increasing the state target fee from 2 cents to 3 cents per target. This increase would generate approximately $10,000 in additional revenue if one million targets were registered in Ohio.

Christina questioned how the additional funds would be used. The group discussed potential allocations, including increasing the state shoot purse to boost registration (suggested by Jason Rambo) and attracting new and youth shooters (suggested by Doug).

Christina emphasized the need for a clear plan before implementing any fee increase. The board agreed to table the decision until next month to develop a comprehensive plan for how the additional revenue would be allocated back to shooters and the state shoot. Sean Alley will reach out to NSCA to understand the process for implementing the proposed increase.

Bid Packet Review & Clarification

The board discussed the need to clarify and update the bid packet requirements for clubs bidding to host the state shoot. The focus was on making bid requirements more specific, reducing ambiguity, and ensuring pricing transparency.

Key areas identified for clarification include:

- Target setters expectations and costs
- Score Chaser event requirements
- Dinner requirements and expectations

The group agreed to review the current bid packet and provide suggestions for clarification and specificity. These updates will be completed before the 2027 state shoot at Airport Ridge.

Promotional Initiative

The board explored ideas for promoting smaller clubs in Ohio, including:

Club Pamphlet/Booklet: Creating a pamphlet with club information, locations, and bios. Sean Alley will send an email to active clubs (including WNR, Middletown, Mad River, and others) asking for bios and information, and gauge interest in participation. Todd will provide a list of clubs that actively throw registered targets to Sean Alley for this project.

Website Updates: The board discussed the need to update the OSCA website and improve its presentation. Jeff Miller noted that meeting invites are now set up as recurring events. There was discussion about ensuring meeting minutes are posted regularly. Sean Alley will look into options for updating the website, including potential costs for professional help.

Social Media: The group discussed potentially hiring a professional to handle social media updates, which could cost a few hundred dollars per month. The increased target fee (if approved) could potentially fund these improvements. Jason Rambo representative agreed to add the state shoot to their podcast tourney talk once the date is known.

501c3/c7 Foundation Update

Alan provided updates on establishing a 501c3 charitable foundation and the 501c7 nonprofit status for the association.

501c7 Application: Alan noted the application process typically takes a couple of months and has not received any negative feedback so far. While the C7 nonprofit status wouldn't take effect until 2027, they could potentially file separate tax returns if needed.

501c3 Foundation: Alan explained requirements for separate bank accounts and financial records for the C3 Foundation and C7 Association. He noted that funds from the charitable organization could only be distributed to other qualified C3 organizations rather than individuals, though this could be changed if needed.

The board discussed potential tax benefits through charitable donations, including donating to Midway Foundation, which would match donations dollar-for-dollar and benefit Ohio youth shooting teams.

The board passed a motion to proceed with the 501c3 application process, including obtaining the charter, EIN, and submitting to the IRS. Alan will handle these steps.

2027 Shoot Scheduling

Jeff Miller explained the scheduling process for 2027 shoots. He sent forms to all clubs last Friday requesting their preferred dates, with responses due by October 31st. Jeff Miller will compile the responses to identify any overlaps and inform clubs of conflicts.

The board decided to let clubs resolve scheduling conflicts among themselves rather than imposing specific dates. Christina will reach out to other clubs to coordinate shoot schedules and resolve overlaps if necessary. Jeff Miller will resend the shoot schedule form to Doug and any other clubs that may have missed it.

Bill Elliott suggested the board should establish guidelines for scheduling in the future, while Sean Alley and others noted the current approach of collecting all requests first and then identifying conflicts was practical.
